

BEAUTIFUL AUTUMN FOLIAGE IN MAIN MOUNTAINS

Season of Large Entertainments Begins Among Berkshire Sojourners—Many Arrive at Lenox

LENOX, Mass., Oct. 4. THE season of big entertainments began this week with dinners and large house parties for guests who are being entertained by the cottagers. Many well known New Yorkers are at the hotels. Many persons touring the mountains are staying here.

Cortlandt F. Bishop laid out this week a new Berkshire tour of fifty miles, the Berkshire Belt, wholly within the county. It starts at Lenox, passes through Lee, crosses the Hoosac at Jacob's Ladder to the eastern slope at Bonny Rigg corners, thence over a new highway through Becket, Washington, Hinsdale and Dalton to Pittsfield, returning to Lenox over the trunk line north and south. This road is of great scenic value. It gives new views of Greylock.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortlandt F. Bishop are preparing to go to France to visit the battlefields. They apply for passports this week for themselves and Mrs. John E. Parsons, Mr. Bishop's mother. They will hurry to France because of reports from returned travellers of the immense work going on there of removing all vestiges of war except in certain parts of France. They will pass the winter in France, remaining perhaps for a year before returning to Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Jacques also are preparing to go to France. They will visit their son, Capt. Francis Jacques of the transportation service, who has been overseas since 1915, first with the French army in the ambulance corps and later enlisted in the United States service. Dr. and Mrs. Jacques will be some time overseas.

Girard Fosters Give Reception. The largest entertainments of this week were given by Mr. and Mrs. Girard Foster. They had a reception, garden party and several dinners at Bellefontaine; by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, who had large dinner parties at Holmwood; by Mrs. William D. Sloane, who entertained for her week end guest, Mrs. John E. Alexander, and by Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold have had Mrs. Robert W. Paterson of Santa Barbara, Cal., at Wyndhurst. Mrs. Paterson is the owner of the adjoining property, Blantyre. A luncheon for her was given by Mrs. Thomas Shields Clarke. Other entertainments are planned for her.

Some of the departures of the week were Mrs. Winslow Williams, who went to Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. Sturgis Coffin to New York; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ellis to Great Neck, L. I.; Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson, Jr., to Chicago and Miss Ann Ingersoll Meigs to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Charles Wright of California, formerly of Philadelphia, arrived Friday at the Maples to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cortlandt F. Bishop. They gave large entertainments last night and to-night in her honor.

The annual meeting of the Lenox Garden Club will be held Monday. Mrs. Edward Spencer will entertain the club at Shiloh Court. The club has been active this year in emphasizing the value of the garden and a number of prominent horticulturists and scientists have given addresses at monthly meetings.

The Right Rev. Thomas F. Davies and Miss Marian Davies started today for the general convention of the Episcopal Church in Detroit. They will be in Buffalo, proceeding thence by steamer. On their return to Lenox they will close their cottage and go to Springfield, Mass., for the winter months.

Autumn Amusements Popular. All the autumn amusements are in full swing. Motoring of course leads because of the good roads and the brilliant foliage, but driving has many followers. Mrs. William B. O. Field drives a pair of ponies daily. Dan R. Hanna is seen behind his prize winning hackneys on a coach. Mrs. Edwards Spencer drives cross matched pairs to a phaeton. Mrs. Willington Smith drives a pair to a cart in tandem harness. Harris Fahnestock and Miss Kate Cary are driving pairs to beach wagons. In the saddle are Miss Helen Frothingham, Miss Edith Bonal, Miss Elizabeth Osborne, Capt. and Mrs. David T. Dana and guests at hotels.

Capt. William B. Osgood Field and Dr. Bruce W. Paddock started this week for the Canadian Rockies to hunt mountain sheep. Capt. Field had just returned from a two weeks' Canadian fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. D. Lanier and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanier 2d went to New York early this week after a week's visit at Allen Winden. Mrs. James P. D. Lanier was a guest of Mrs. Frederick S. Goodrich at a music festival and entertainments in Pittsfield during her visit to Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Duncombe have closed the Aspinwall cottage. This was their second summer at the cottage. Mrs. Curt Resinger, who is at the Aspinwall No. 2 cottage, will remain well into October. Her mother, Mrs. John B. McKee, is with her.

Mrs. John Turner Atterbury, Mrs. Edward Bird and Mrs. E. Hope Slater have been at Elm Court. Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly, who was there, went to Tuxedo Park. Albert M. Post Mitchell is passing the autumn at the Lenox Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Delafield and Mrs. Joseph S. Whittier are making their annual visit to Lenox. The guests of Mrs. Delafield's mother, Mrs. George W. Folson. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Benjamin have been at Overlee during their visit to Lenox.

Mrs. John Clinton Gray went to Newport early this week from Curtis Hotel. Mrs. Margaret Livingston Lee returned from Curtis Hotel to pass the autumn with Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Lee. Others arriving there include R. C. Chamberlin, who is visiting his father, Ansel Chamberlin.

The 15th anniversary of the Congregational Church was celebrated this week with services in the church and a party supper at the chapel. Sunnycroft, the country place of the lante and John Holme Ballantyne, Jr., came in from Cedarhurst. Others arriving through the week from New York were Mrs. W. Robinson Simmons, Miss Marjorie Simmons and Robinson Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Tyne, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Kesinger, Mrs. Frederick E. White, Mr. and Mrs. William Chappelle, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sawyer and Miss Elizabeth Woodin.

Mrs. William Everard Strong arrived early in the week from New York and entertained at dinner on Wednesday Mrs. John J. McCook, Miss Harriet McCook and J. Newton Marshall.

Mrs. Foster Milliken is here for two weeks, and Mrs. Terah Haggin is at the Homestead for the same length of time before making a longer visit in her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Williams, a matron of honor and Mrs. Harry Le. Elizabeth Wessen and Miss Ruth Rittenhouse.

Joseph H. Goodspeed, Jr., was the best man and the ushers were Jarvis C. Cromwell of this city, William A. Buell of Rochester, Eugene Morton of Boston, William Augustus Reed of New York, Charles Williams and Alfred Williams of Montclair. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents in Montclair. Mr. Goodspeed and his bride will make their home in Orange, N. J.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Freeman Huske, daughter of the Rev. Kirkland Huske, rector of All Saints Church, Great Neck, L. I., and Mr. Huske, to Francis Hamilton Sherrard of Scranton, Pa., was celebrated on Tuesday afternoon in her father's church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Frederick Burgess and was followed by a reception in the rectory.

An unusual feature marked the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mary L. Ryan, the bride being attended by both her mother and the bridegroom's mother. The wedding, which was a large reception in the autumn, was celebrated on Tuesday in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Port Chester, N. Y., with the Rev. John A. Waters officiating. The ceremony was followed by a large reception in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's attendants were Miss Mabel Baker, her sister, Miss Marion Dwyer, Miss Anna Coughlin, Miss Marie Burns and Miss Anna O'Brien.

William G. Reardon, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Vincent Baker of Chicago, Donald V. Ryan, Ernest Devanny, William O'Brien and John Rheinfrank. The bride was active during the war in the Red Cross.

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Charles Henry Magan of 740 Riverside Drive of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Grace Magan, to Edward George Daly. It took place in the Church of Our Lady of Hope on September 29 and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Adrian and the Rev. A. Buisson. The bride was attended by Mrs. Edwin Spies, while Dr. Spies served as best man. Mr. Daly and his bride will make their home in Pelham, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Paolo Gelli returned on Thursday from a five months' trip through China and Japan. They will be at the Hotel Commodore this winter, where their children have been staying with their grandmother, Mrs. Egan, during their parents' absence.

Mrs. Mario G. Menocci, wife of President Menocci of Cuba, will arrive in New York to-morrow from Havana. She will be at the Hotel Majestic for about two days, when she will sail for Paris where she intends passing the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonso R. Peck have returned to their home, 7 West Eighty-seventh street, from Atlantic City, where they spent last month.

Mrs. M. F. Mason Manheim and her daughter, Miss Madeline Manheim, have returned to their apartment at the Spencer Arms from Pittsfield, Mass.

Mrs. Bartow S. Weeks has returned from her summer home at Cape Vincent, where she spent the summer and has opened her home at 570 Park avenue, where she intends to entertain extensively this season. Mrs. John Cort will the colony. Mrs. Haggin is daily in the saddle and is an accomplished rider, true to all the traditions of her native California. Mrs. Francis Henderson came in early in the week.

Baron and Baroness Are Guests.

Mrs. W. Robinson Simmons entertained Baron and Baroness Rosencrans at dinner in the Homestead Tuesday evening. Frank Schoonmaker entertained at dinner on Wednesday for Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bashford, Edgar Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shulze, Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. L. A. Hoyt, Miss Edna Hoyt, Miss Cornelia Lydon, Richard P. Lydon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell, Graef have entertained through the week at Barton Lodge, where Miss Margaret Harding of Washington is a house guest, visiting Miss Olive Graef.

The Mead cottage has been taken for the season by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gleason, Mrs. D. Paul Buckley, Williams. Four seasons has been the shorter paths along Valley View and Forest Drive and through picturesque Oakhurst, the quaint little old English colony where families whose names are known to both the Casino and the Greenbrier part in the life at White Sulphur, for golfers and tennis players delight in simple luncheons served at the Colonial Club. These are such balmy days that most every one has luncheon on the Casino lawn, and many are always there at the tea hour.

Not only have the mountain ridges and the woods responded to the call of color and have become resplendent in gorgeous crimson, orange and russet tints. Colorists arriving here daily have come forth in sport costumes of beautiful coloring.

Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich, who has just arrived with Mr. Aldrich to pass a part of October, appeared on the golf course in a smart sport costume, the most brilliant feature of which was a bright orange felt hat, with a crushed crown. Sweaters for the game of golf are being made of bright colors and lively shades of browns and tans.

Leather Trimmed Sport Suits.

Leather has become popular material for trimming and many sport suits seen here this week were trimmed with leather at the pockets, while the collars and cuffs were in shades of leather to blend with the color of the suit. Automobileists touring through the Alleghenies find the leather motor coats as essential as they are fashionable.

Though social events do not fill the colony. Mrs. Haggin is daily in the saddle and is an accomplished rider, true to all the traditions of her native California. Mrs. Francis Henderson came in early in the week.

New Yorkers Join Colony.

Mrs. Alphonse Jongscha and Miss Louise Jongscha arrived early in the week from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adrian, who came in on Tuesday, are at one of the Homestead cottages. Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Newington and John C. Newington have arrived from New York. Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Townsend are here for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Tracy, Mrs. Tracy and Emory W. Tracy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Tappin have arrived from Babylon, L. I. Mr. Frederick W. White, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Roberts, Kenneth N. Chambers, Luther Martin, Jr., and Luther Martin Jr. also arrived during the week from New York.

Franklin Pike, Mrs. Samuel G. Estabrook, Mrs. Willis J. Blackwell, Mrs. Cary F. Simmons, Mrs. D. Paul Buckley, Mrs. C. F. Goepel, Mr. Walter W. Griffith, Mrs. Henry W. McCandless, Mrs. Edgar O. Rogers, Mrs. Owen J. Williams, Mrs. Van Kirk, who toured the country during the war for the speakers' division of the Italian Bureau of Information, will deliver an illustrated talk at 8 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday, with views of Venice by moonlight. A short musical programme will be rendered and there is to be informal dancing.

John Thomas Egan, under whose direction the club held a number of successful affairs last season, is chairman of the committee of arrangements. Among those assisting him are: Mrs. Frank A. O'Brien, Carroll H. Brewster, Frank E. Eddehols, Daniel A. Cullinan, John H. Keegan, William E. La Plante, Murray Ambrose, James F. Savage, John J. Cuylen, John E. Donnelly, Peter J. McGovern, Jr., Dr. George R. Stuart, William A. Slattery, Jr., George E. Morrissey and C. A. Williams.

Among the women on the committee are Mrs. Harriet A. Le Vasseur, Miss Minna Lugard, Miss Anna J. Ryan, Miss Elizabeth Murphy, the Misses King, Miss Marie L. Saphere, Miss Mary A. Nurek, Mrs. Henry Heide, Jr., Miss Marjorie Pennyfather and Miss Grace Nunn.

Andrew Jackson, which is the New York county chapter of the New York State Society, U. S. Daughters of 1812, which has always met in the homes of its members, has fallen into line with the majority of organizations and has adopted a hotel for its headquarters this year, having arranged to convene monthly in the Waldorf-Astoria through the season of 1919-20. An interesting programme is on the schedule for each month and on Wednesday, October 15, the initial one will be given in the Waldorf in charge of the regent, who will preside as well as be chairman of the day.

The new officers of Andrew Jackson Chapter are: Mrs. Homer E. Lee, regent; Mrs. Daniel L. Turner, first vice-regent; Mrs. Elizabeth Lester, third vice-regent; Mrs. Pleasant J. Gant, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert M. Treadwell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Washington L. Mann, treasurer. Mrs. Jesse L. The United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will hold their annual convention on Thursday in the Hotel Astor. The president general, Miss Mary B. Poppenhorn, who has been spending some time in the Berkshire Hills, is expected to be present.

The annual campaign luncheon of the Woman's Democratic Club, Mrs. George H. Childs president, will be held on Saturday.

Women's Sport Costumes Vie in Coloring With Auburn Foliage in Alleghany Mountains

WHITTE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA., Oct. 4. NOW come the ideal days of October, when almost every one in the mountains lives in the open and devotes much time to the sports. There has never been a happier colony here during the autumn months than that now at White Sulphur. Golf links are filled daily with enthusiastic players, tennis enthusiasts are on the courts early and late, while the wonderful trails over miles and miles of mountain ridges have been the scenes of many merry riding parties.

The trails leading up to High Top Mountain, to the Greenbrier, Kate's and O'Farrell's mountains and to Bob Ridge are visited daily, while many members of the riding set are content with the shorter paths along Valley View and Forest Drive and through picturesque Oakhurst, the quaint little old English colony where families whose names are known to both the Casino and the Greenbrier part in the life at White Sulphur, for golfers and tennis players delight in simple luncheons served at the Colonial Club. These are such balmy days that most every one has luncheon on the Casino lawn, and many are always there at the tea hour.

Automobileists touring through the Alleghenies find the leather motor coats as essential as they are fashionable.

Though social events do not fill every waking moment at White Sulphur in October as they do in August there are always little dinner parties given in the Greenbrier, many of which are followed by trips to the movies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Theodore Smith, who have returned to New York accompanied by their daughter, Miss Natalie Young Smith, gave a farewell dinner in their suite in the Greenbrier on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. George Dallas Dixon of Philadelphia, who had just come from Newport, where she passed the summer. Mrs. Walter H. Close, Mrs. Robert Parrish, Mrs. Thomas B. Yellie, Mrs. John Dana and Miss Josephine McClure were her guests.

Several informal dinner parties will be given this week at the Pines and at Elmhurst Farm.

An interesting New York colony is at the Greenbrier now. Arrivals of the last week included Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich of New York and Great Neck, L. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele of Westbury, L. I., who will pass several weeks here; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Zabriskie and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Tappan of New York. Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevens Ullman of New York are here accompanied by Miss Audrey Barclay Ullman and Rutledge Barclay Ullman. Miss Ullman is popular in the young riding set at White Sulphur and is in the saddle every day for a brisk ride.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevens Ullman are at the Greenbrier with Mr. and Mrs. James P. Travers of New York. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Roberts, Joseph Gilman, John A. Sheerin and Mrs. and Mrs. B. Miller are other New York arrivals.

Mrs. David Stevenson, who was here for several weeks in the spring, has returned to the Greenbrier from New York. Mrs. James B. Duke and child are here for October.

NEWPORT.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 4. THE Newport Casino will close late in October for the season and the prospects are that next year there will be much more lively than the last few years have been. A start was made toward brightening up the life at the Casino during the latter part of the present season, when some changes were made at the stockholders' annual meeting and four women, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mr. Vincent Astor, Mrs. Barger Wallach and Miss Ruth V. Twombly, were added to the board of governors and executive committee.

The management intends to have again an orchestra for the popular morning concerts and the Sunday evening concerts. Subscription dances also are expected to be regular features next season.

The governors also have in mind a plan to let down the bars a little, to admit a larger number of guests, fixing an admission fee for a day's privileges and doing away with the necessity of being proposed by a member or subscriber.

The last week has seen the closing of several more cottages and villas. New York arrivals for the season, Mrs. Whitman have closed their Price's Neck cottage and returned to New York; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor have closed Beechwood, after a much longer season than usual, and have gone to Rhinebeck, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, who prolonged their season because of the coming of Countess Schenzy, have gone to Westbury.

Mrs. Charles M. Thomas and her daughter, Miss Ruth Thomas, went on Wednesday to New York, and will then go to Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Biddle, who have returned to the Blair estate, have returned to New York; and Mr. and Mrs. Craig Biddle and their family have returned to Philadelphia, as has Mrs. George Dallas Dixon.

Mrs. Whitney Warren and son, Whitney Warren, Jr., have gone back to New York, as have Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Warren, Jr. and Mrs. James H. Kidder and Mr. and Mrs. John Wannamaker, Jr.

Mrs. Rogers Pratt has closed the cottage which she had been occupying and is at La Forge before going to New York. Mrs. Miller Graham and her daughter, Miss Geraldine Graham, who had the Eustis cottage, have gone to New York, where they will stay for a while before going to their own home in Los Angeles. They will return to Newport next season.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer will close their Newport season October 18. Mr. and Mrs. J. Francis A. Clark will remain here until about November 1.

Although the Post Parliament is first and always for the practice of parliamentary law and the discussion of political science, current events and current literature, it also stands for patriotism and more all around the times.

The Parliament supplied 100 talking machines to the Y. M. C. A., to be used in the camp huts of that society, and installed one, with many records, in the hospital for American wounded at Passy France. The club cooperated with the American Criticism Society, furnished many knitted articles and delicacies for the hospital at the Camp Merritt. It provided supper for wounded soldiers at the Khaki and Blue Club several times. One of its members, Mrs. Victor A. Robertson, worked for a year in the hospitals in Belgium and France. Another member, Mrs. Lillian Samak, had charge of the red cross station at Tours, France. The club invested in a Liberty bond and contributed towards the Third, Fourth and Fifth Liberty Loan drives and is now enrolled as an honor member of the Victory Liberty Loan, being in possession of an honor emblem presented by the Government.

Mrs. Thomas Gladstone Massey, president of the Society of Michigan Daughters in New York, will be entertained at the house of Mrs. John B. Sheppard, 397 West Seventy-ninth street, on Tuesday afternoon. There will be a business
